For asylum-seekers Rumsfeld's makes it difficult to emigrate here

Mac Low's sing ing? in that the side s are there 's(/silent) speaking 's (/ silent) in being sounded he leaves the side s in flected into 'there' of as event is night-chance-determined there isn't even at wild night day night being in it already is noticed in the e vents

and no obligation of _____ (that's theirs) and obligation of giving everything to that person (on their part) simply from one being born at wild night day night being in it and asked what obligation US soldiers in Iraq had if they saw Iraqi security forces abusing prisoners Gen Pace says It is absolutely the responsibility of every US service member, if they see inhumane treatment being conducted, to intervene and stop it

it is the responsibility of every US service member if they see any of US forces abusing prisoners in Iraq it's their there (/silent)

responsibility to

is implied there Rumsfeld intervenes if they saw see Iraqi security forces abusing prisoners every US service member should (no) report (ing's) it only, (it's) implied If they are physically present (?) when inhumane treatment is taking place, sir, they have an obligation to try to stop it, intervene

s Gen Pace (is) there

Mac Low's phrases 's/silent Pace says later There's no difference between their views as his was speaking ('s) of the obligation of US soldiers in war whereas Rumsfeld's was of US soldiers in nonhostile zones at wild night day night being in it (too)

Mac Low said to me I don't believe in the 'inside'

'only' or 'when' they 'r making both?
r/both side s/at once

his single syllables 's halo halos of an exterior circle which (rather than our being in it 'circular') (which) one hears as he's 'do ing' this the syllables there?

and we're not 'in' that
